Dear Secretary of State,

South London and South East England Children's Cancer Principal Treatment Centre

Congratulations on your appointment as Secretary of State for Health and Social Care. We look forward to working with you in our many areas of overlapping responsibility.

Our seven Councils have taken the unprecedented step of coming together to each submit formal referrals to you to call-in the decision to consolidate the South London and South East England Children's Cancer Principal Treatment Centre at the Evelina Hospital. We trust that you are aware that this is a decision we have campaigned against since the intention was first expressed by NHS England.

Together we represent 2.7 million people. Our Councils are led by Labour, the Liberal Democrats and the Conservatives. We hope our united action on this decision is a signal to you of the strength of feeling we all have on this matter.

The communities we represent have overwhelmingly told us of their concern at the decision made by NHS England. The cost-benefit analysis of travelling to the Evelina in central London was designed in a way which, understandably, considered numerical factors such as time and cost, but failed to adequately understand the experience of patients – which is of paramount importance. One parent said they would be “completely devastated if this change goes ahead” due to the additional stress of driving into central London. Public transport is not a viable option for those with an immunosuppressed child, and the stress of having to drive through central London, often at short notice, with limited parking capacity at the Evelina, is simply not a viable situation to put families through.

Further, St George's Hospital has 25 years of experience delivering cancer care to children, including complex surgery, and this experience cannot be replicated at the Evelina. We struggle to see how the difficulties and complexity associated with trying to replicate the existing services and experience at St George's Hospital, including potentially asking staff to travel between the hospitals, represents better value for patient care and safety or improves the conditions and wellbeing of staff. We understand that the safest option for patients is to continue services at St George's Hospital, and that a move to the Evelina would be a step in the wrong direction.

Making the NHS fit for the 21st century must place patient experience at the very forefront. Each of our seven Councils' formal referrals contain greater detail on how we think this can be better achieved by retaining existing services at St George's.

We would like to work with you going forwards on this and other issues, and making sure our communities are at the forefront of decisions which affect them.

We hope you will agree to call-in this decision.

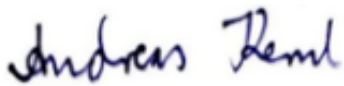

Yours sincerely,
